ANKARA - 2019

3rd. EDITION

PREFACE

As is known to all, the essential task of the government is to serve the community by guaranteeing its welfare, peace and well-being, as well as confident expectations from the future. Improvement in all dimensions and maturation is only possible if the said fundamental task is duly fulfilled. Social peace and assurance of security are the most important among the fundamental needs. And meeting such needs successfully requires duly fulfilment of the general security services.

The entire organisations/institutions should act jointly not only with the liabilities stipulated by law but also with their conscientious responsibility to implement a successful fight against drugs. Given the fact that Turkey is located on a significant transition route, Turkey has demonstrated outstanding performance to fight against drug smuggling both at home and overseas, treating drug trafficking as a crime committed to the entire humanity.

Undoubtedly, the most important factor contributing to the success of continuous efforts is the qualified human resources. Hence, it has become an obligation to train the anti-drug law enforcers with a professional approach.

In this regard, with the scope of acquiring permanent success in narcotic crimes, and to keep the knowledge, skills and sense of mission of our personnel alive, to train qualified personnel who can adapt to the latest technologies and innovation, and for the monitoring, improving and updating of the training activities Counter Narcotics Training Academy (NEA) has been established. Counter Narcotics Training Academy (NEA) provides training in narcotics in both technical and practical and operational fields in 11 foreign branches. With the belief that the trainings delivered by our Department will considerably contribute to the fight against drugs, we present the training catalogue to the service of the anti-drug units.
